CINAHL Workbooks

Basic Searching CINAHL Workbook
In this workbook you will use the Basic Search screen to search by keyword. You will identify synonyms and related terms to incorporate into your search. You will then view the results of your search and use different routes to accessing the full text. Finally, you will output your results by emailing them to your University of Ulster email account.

Advanced Searching CINAHL Workbook
This workbook will help you to begin searching for journal information in the CINAHL nursing and allied health database using CINAHL headings. This offers a more precise way of searching and is highly recommended by Library staff.

Using the “Suggest Subject Terms feature” in the Advanced Search screen you will see how CINAHL takes your search topic and suggests the most appropriate CINAHL headings to describe it. You will then view the results of your search and use different routes to accessing the full text. Finally, you will output your results by emailing them to your University of Ulster email account.
